

August 17

Today is “National Archeology Day.” An archeologist is someone who recovers and studies the remains of previous human life and culture. If you could be an archeologist for a day, which culture would enjoy learning about?